THE TAX ON WHISKY AND RAW COPPOSE.

A mischlevous paragraph has been sent hence that in his forthcoming annual report the Secretary of the Treasury intends to recommend an increase of the tax on raw cotton of one cent per pound. He furnishes a deals of this report and says that he shall suggest nothing of the kind. Mr. Boutwell is of the opinion that if the present tax on distilled spirits is fully collected it is all the government ought to ask. It is not improbable, howevery that Commissioner Delanomay recommend the cotton tax, but the Secretary is averse to it.

The consumption the past year shows a slight failing off, notwithstanding the mills have increased their stock about 30,000 bales. Our meast summary, showing the result of the year, North and South, is as follows:
Total cup of the United States, as above 255,000.

Leaving consumption in Northern States,

Leaving consumption in Northern Seates. Incise.

We have been at considerable trouble to obtain a correct fide of the stock now held by the mills, and find that, although several of the largest-corporations are holding six, seven, or eight weeks supply, the great body of the squinners are lightly stocked. The total head by them, therefore, on the first of September was loss than we supposed, being about 69,000 hales, against 50,000 last year. Taking the stock, then, on the first of September was loss than we supposed, being about 69,000 hales, against 50,000 bales, against 69,000 bales, would be about 565,000 bales against 990,000 bales, would be about 565,000 bales against 900,000 bales, which is the same of all the mills, after deducting the increase held this year over last year (20,000 bales), would be about 565,000 bales spaints 900,000 bales as year.

The new year begins with a deficiency lather visible supply of cotton for this consist, and turiputed the section for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the visible supply of cotton for this consist, and the cost on production of the world range to consume the consist of the same period of last sease. But this year that has been about 3,000 bales feel the same period of 1867-8, while the Continent and the United States have probably together also consumed about 8,000 bales ies per week. If therefore, the mills this season return to the consumption of 1867-8, 30,000 bales season to the deficiency, but the extent of our crop cannot yet be definitely stated.
